

Rubrics

Gabriel Smith | LFS Learning Centre

Agenda

- What is a Rubric?
- Why should I use a Rubric?
- Rubric Examples
- Breakout Activity

What is a rubric?

What is a Rubric?

“a scoring guide used to evaluate the quality of students’ constructed responses” (Popham, 1997)

Analytic

- Criteria or traits to be evaluated
- Levels of performance on each criteria
- (Optional) Explanation of each level for each criterion

Holistic

- Integrates all aspects of the work into a single overall rating

Either type may contain space to enter comments from the instructor.

Why should I use a Rubric?

Reasons to use Rubrics

- Increase grading efficiency
  - Large class size
  - High volume of written assignments
  - Entering same comments repeatedly
- Increase grading consistency
  - Between multiple graders
  - Through long grading sessions
- Increase grading transparency
  - Define requirements before submission
  - Explain how students were assessed

Rubric Examples

Canvas Assignments

Show us your Rubrics!